

ALL FASCINATED BY WOMEN'S HAIR

With a Little Attention, Hair Beauty Can Be Quickly Doubled

Nearly every woman who has an ordinary head of hair can by giving it just a little attention have luxuriant hair, soft, fluffy and radiantly beautiful.

It's a good thing to know this because hair preparations that put life and luster into dull-looking hair are scarce, but it is a fact known to nearly every druggist that Parisian Sage, a delightfully clean and refreshing tonic, not only will make your hair look 100 per cent. better, but will quickly stop it from falling, rid it of dandruff and scalp itch.

Parisian Sage is well worth a trial and the Red Cross Pharmacy, who dispose of a great quantity of it, will tell you so, and refund your money if it isn't all you expect.—Adv.

OPERATION ON J. J. HILL

Condition Described as Serious, But Patient Is Resting Nicely.

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—Drs. James and Charles H. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., operated on James J. Hill at 4:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The Drs. Mayo arrived in St. Paul at 4 o'clock on a special train and the operation was performed 15 minutes later. At 4:30 Dr. James Gillfillan, Mr. Hill's physician, issued the following bulletin:

"The patient is suffering from an infection of the buttock and thigh. The condition is serious at his age and the patient is being watched carefully. The infection was opened and drained this afternoon. Mr. Hill got through the operation nicely and is resting quietly."

A later bulletin issued by Dr. Gillfillan says: "Mr. Hill rallied quickly and favorably from the operation. There was no alarming fever and his temperature was very good. We are only fearful because of the patient's extreme age. The critical point in his condition will not be reached for a few days. But I anticipate favorable results. Mr. Hill is suffering with a carbuncle on the posterior of his thigh which has resulted from bowel trouble."

PENALTY FOR DIVORCE

Methodist Conference Amendment Affects Officiating Clergyman.

Saratoga, N. Y., May 29.—A Methodist minister who officiates at the marriage of a divorced person in violation of the rules of the church is guilty of an act of maladministration and may be compelled to answer charges before his conference, according to an amendment to the discipline of the church which was adopted unanimously Saturday by the general conference. The church has always recognized only one ground for divorce, and has permitted the remarriage only of the innocent party, but no penalty has ever existed.

FEELER FOR PEACE MOVE

Conditions of American Mediation as Outlined by President Wilson

WANTS FREEDOM OF THE SEAS

And Virtual Guarantee of Territorial Integrity and Political Independence

Washington, D. C., May 29.—President Wilson declared Saturday night, before the league to enforce peace, that the United States was ready to join in any feasible association of nations to preserve the peace of the world against "political ambition and selfish hostility," and in service of "a common order, a common justice and a common peace." He expressed the hope that the terms of peace which end the present war would include such an arrangement.

Outlining suggestions for peace which the president said he hoped the United States would make if it has opportunity to do so, he included provision for absolute freedom of the seas—a contention which has been the keystone of all the diplomatic discussions with Germany and Great Britain—and virtual guarantees of territorial integrity and political independence.

Officials interpreted the president's address as a preliminary feeler for peace in Europe. He outlined the conditions on which the United States would move if it made a formal mediatory offer, with the idea, it was understood, of learning how such suggestions would be received abroad.

Not Parties to Present Quarrel.

"I am sure," said the president, "that the people of the United States would wish their government to move along these lines:

"First, such a settlement with regard to their own immediate interests as the belligerents may agree upon. We have nothing material of any kind to ask for ourselves, and are quite aware that we are in no reason or degree parties to the present quarrel. Our interest is only in peace and its future guaranties."

"Second, a universal association of the nations to maintain the inviolate security of the highway of the seas for the common and unhindered use of all the nations of the world, and to prevent any war begun either contrary to treaty covenants or without warning and full submission of the causes to the opinion of the world—a virtual guarantee of territorial integrity and political independence."

The fundamentals of a lasting peace, President Wilson said he believed were: "First, that every people has a right to choose the sovereignty under which they shall live. Like other nations," the president said, "we have ourselves no doubt once and again offended against that principle when for a little while controlled by selfish passion, as our franker historians have been honorable enough to admit; but it has become more and more our rule of life and action."

"Second, that the small states of the world have a right to enjoy the same respect for their sovereignty and for their territorial integrity that great and powerful nations expect and insist upon."

"And, third, that the world has a right to be free from every disturbance of its peace that has its origin in aggression and disregard of the rights of peoples and nations."

WANT MITCHEL OUSTED.

United Independent Democrats of Kings County Send Resolutions to Governor.

New York, May 29.—The removal of Mayor Purroy Mitchell from office was asked in resolutions adopted at New York and sent to Governor Whitman Saturday night by the United Independent Democrats of Kings county. The technical basis for the request for the mayor's removal was that he had failed in his duty as a citizen to notify the district attorney of Kings and New York counties of the knowledge he said he had that clergymen were conspiring criminally for illegal purposes. The resolutions cited that in testimony and in public statements the mayor repeatedly said he had such knowledge.

The resolutions were drafted by W. E. Connell, president of the organization, the man who requested District Attorney Lewis of Kings to investigate the wire tapping which led to the indictment of Commissioner Charles Kingsbury and his counsel, William H. Hotchkiss. The resolutions were drawn at a meeting of the executive committee of the organization Saturday and adopted at a meeting Saturday night.

MUCH GOLD FROM AMERICA.

New York Men Mentioned in Rebellion Inquiry at Dublin.

Dublin, Ire., May 29.—The names of Judge Daniel Cohalan of the New York state supreme court and Dennis Spillane, a New York lawyer, were mentioned by Major Price in his testimony at Dublin Saturday before the Irish commission investigating the Sinn Fein revolt, in connection with money sent from America to the Sinn Feiners. Major Price said that $100,000, mostly American gold, had reached the Irish revolutionists during the first six months after the war broke out. The Sinn Feiners then withdrew all their funds from the banks and stopped making further deposits so that it was impossible to trace later sums received by them. The witness added, however, that he was certain that large sums had been remitted subsequently from the United States.

Chicago, May 29.—Notice of a contest involving the entire delegation from North Carolina to the Republican national convention, consisting of four delegates-at-large and 17 district delegates, was received at Chicago Saturday by Secretary James B. If the North Carolina contestants want their case heard they will be required to appeal to the committee on credentials of the convention.

A THIRD TICKET

If the Colonel Is Named, Taft May Head Movement

HUGHES SHOWS INTEREST IN RACE

Represented as Taking Lively Notice of What's Going On

Washington, May 29.—Saturday here was full of anticipation over President Wilson's speech before the League to Enforce Peace and of peace talk generally in all matters except national politics. Following a wave of Roosevelt sentiment in recent days, there rise intimations that shortly a quietus will be put upon Roosevelt talk. At least an effort to counter the demonstrative tactics at Oyster Bay, of business men marching the while they shout for the colonel and all that, is firmly promised. In concrete terms the proposition is that certain elements in the Republican party intend shortly to issue the ultimatum that if Roosevelt be nominated by the big convention at Chicago a third ticket will be placed in the field by straight Republicans and that ex-President Taft will be willing to head that independent ticket of protest.

It is well established, however, that an avenue of communication with Justice Hughes has been opened recently. He is represented as taking lively notice and now and then word issues through this secret channel as to his wishes and plans respecting activities at Chicago. This is something of a relief to certain politicians and among other things has furnished assurance to doubting ones very recently. Every sentence that comes through from the justice is most eagerly accepted by those who are "in the know." Managers and captains who would be "in on the ground floor" with the Hughes nomination, thinking, of course, that it may lead to preferment and eminence, not to say employment, are "humping themselves to Chicago and with great ardor swinging out the Hughes banner."

The Senate has agreed to vote to-day on a motion to recommit the rivers and harbors bill. That marks some progress. There is great weariness in the Senate over the prolonged discussion of this bill. The House spent Saturday afternoon in general debate on the navy appropriation bill. Much was expected of Republican radicals in hammering the bill as inadequate, but Republican aspirations on inadequate preparedness are falling flat, and debate by Republicans was noticeably lacking in pep.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Its Meaning Interpreted for the Younger Generations.

We pause to-day in the midst of the never ending duties of life to give expression to high and noble tributes to the great armies of our heroes, and to commemorate their virtues and their deeds with fitting and appropriate ceremonies.

As we undertake to review the marvelous development of a great nation with its mighty wonders, we turn instinctively to the soldier and in glorious epitaph we would write of his courage, his loyalty, his blood courage, making possible the foundation of our country's greatness and building a structure that will stand for all time as an imperishable memorial of his love for humanity.

The purple of the evening and the billows of silver and gold of the morning paint the flowers and grass and hide all that is mortal of young lives crushed out on cruel fields of war, and where they sleep, in field or on mountain or in the silent deep, "Where coral and the amber ride in youthful bloom or boyhood pride," these grand heroic builds of history are transfigured into the light of his countenance.

Memories, rich with the years of half a century with their posthumous glories, are before us—glories attained by heroes who have long been sleeping a long and dreamless sleep; attained also by those who came back from the battlefields of the southland, scarred and footsore, to still give to the greatest nation on earth the best of their manhood. They were not great as the world calls men great, for they came from hamlet, and harvest field, from dark forests and rural solitude; they came in the strength of their young manhood, with iron nerve and sinew—the revealed possibilities of a mighty patriotism. It was not the deed that made them great, it was the motive that prompted the deed. The soldiers of America are great because they have never entered war for the sake of conquest, for the sake of territory, but always and only for the equal rights of their fellow men. And to-day we gather the iris from the rushes, the daisy from the meadows, the wild rose from the prairie, and out of the secret woodland we watch the chariot of springtime bringing her choicest chaplets to our brave ones; the same prairie and the same woodland that gave them birth now weave in choicest blossoms their tributes of love, and all the nation joins in the symphony of the solemn litanies of the past and sings a joyful song unto the Lord; and our surviving heroes of '61, in their last long march, like Israel, are looking forward to the promised land, where there is no sound of battle, only palms of victory and crowns of glory.

From the silent cities of the dead a great cry goes forth, with an impressive and never ending injunction, while the volcano across the seas still pours out its deadly missiles—"Let us have peace."

Memorial day must not be wasted in sentiment that means nothing. On this day we renew our consecration, our fidelity, our loyalty, our vigilance, and prepare for the vision of the future. That vision must be the perpetuation of the principles of a great country, and we assure ourselves that while we will keep the faith our fathers kept, we will pray that our footsteps may be timed to the rhythm of the march of peace.

"Down the dark future through long generations
The echoing sounds grow fainter and then cease;
And like a bell with solemn, sweet vibrations
I hear once more the voice of Christ say 'Peace.'"

National Association of Patriotic Instructors, 161 Tremont street, Boston, Mass., May 1, 1916.
